

Teacher Education Main Campus Course Rotation Updated September 2008

The following chart indicates the intended course offering rotations to assist candidates with advanced planning. The course rotations are based on program needs, anticipated enrollments, the availability of faculty, and university priorities. However, these factors may change over time, and the on-line published Schedule of Classes must be considered the official source of information concerning when courses will actually be offered. Courses may be cancelled due to low enrollment. If you have a specific need, see your advisor.

Each “X” stands for one section of a course.
